SCHOOL LIFE

The Annual Staff works to meet their deadlines.

Colleen Lee and Mary Clair keep it in order.

Annual Staff 1975

The editing of the yearbook is one of the biggest jobs undertaken by any group of students, and the success of the book is a great victory for that group. All year the student body awaits the distribution of the Annual and when the book comes out, if the yearbook is not up to their expectations, they are much disappointed. The staff this year has tried to make a book which would meet the approval of everyone.

Anyone who has an interest in reading and books might enjoy being a library assistant. By volunteering to work for Mrs. Erickson during his free periods, a student will soon know the library in and out. Along with the horrendously tasks of meeting deadlines, each club member has tried to enrich their knowledge in the areas of developing and printing. Photo club found its second major goal was to raise money to pay for supplies. This was accomplished through numerous sales such as their Fall carmel apple sales. An all club dinner climaxed the Photo Club year. President, Ann Sartori; Vice-President, Dawn Amberg; Secretary, Treasurer, Neilan Petersen; Advisors, Miss Simkowski and Mr. Wiese.

Forensics

Forensics at Royall High School encompasses the one act play competition in the fall and the speech competition in the late winter. Participation in forensic competition has been growing at Royall. The addition of a speech class at Royall has certainly aided this increased patricipation. Last year, the forensic team finished third in conference speech competition. Hopefully, forensic competition will continue to grow and thrive at Royall until our school is recognized among the leaders in this activity.

Each performance means hours of practice.

Whether marching with the school band, or presenting shows on their own Pom-Pon members worked hard for their success. Timing and movements were essential for good dancing routines and a lot of time was spent smoothing out rough spots.

The Pom-Pon girls worked with the band during football and basketball seasnos to provide entertainment at half time and marching in parades.

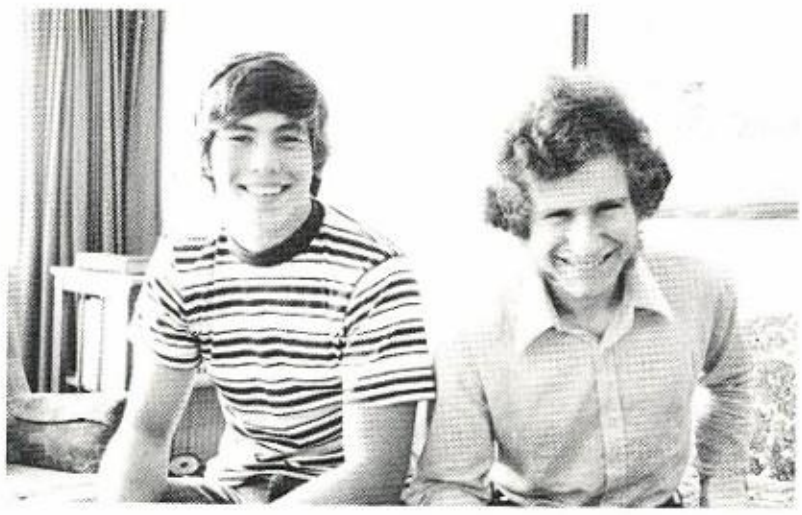
Meet Ueli Oester, Our 1974-1975 A.F.S. Student

"As you know, my name is Ueli Oester. My house is in Switzerland, in the heart of Europe. My hobbies are race driving, skiing, shooting, bookkeeping, and just having a great time.

I'm glad to be with you and to have had such a grandiose time. Someday, I'll come back and visit my new friends that I have found in the United States.

Thanks to all of you that have made my stay here possible; I have learned a lot and improved my life a great deal."



From Switzerland

Ueli Oester was born on September 18, 1956, in Switzerland. He lives on a 35 acre farm with his parents, seven brothers, three sisters, his one foster brother, and one foster sister.

Ueli left his home on August 17, 1974, and spent time getting to know the other 96 exchange students from Switzerland. The group traveled to Brussels by train, leaving Europe August 19. The group arrived in New York, where they were introduced to 1200 A.F.S. students from 22 different countries.

Ueli then traveled 20 hours by bus from New York to Elroy. He is now spending his 1974-75 school year with the Harvey Weiland family on their farm near Kendall.

Skit competition brought a first for cheerleaders, sophomores second, and seniors third. In the float competition, juniors took first. Seniors came up with a second and freshmen third.

Thursday night the bonfire was lit by Queen Becky Anderson and King Jeff Martalock standing near by was the court consisting of: Colleen Lee escorted by Mark Schendel, Jenny McCaskey with Mike Robson, Julie Zmolek with Tim Nelson, and Wayne Weiland with Debbie Drews.

Golf 1974

More people play golf than any other outdoor sport. Every year, millions of golfers walk or ride over golf courses, swinging at a small white ball with slender clubs. Golf emphasizes skill rather than strength. Each player tries to make as low a score as possible, but he must not interfere with his opponents play. In these ways, golf differs from such sports as football and basketball. The golfer tries fewest strokes possible. He uses one of several kinds of clubs tohhit the ball. He competes against par, the number of strokes that the course officials decide are normally necessary to hit the ball into the hole. The equipment includes small, hard balls and long, slender clubs. Each club is designed to play a particular type of stroke or hit the ball a certain distance.
